ARTITEC

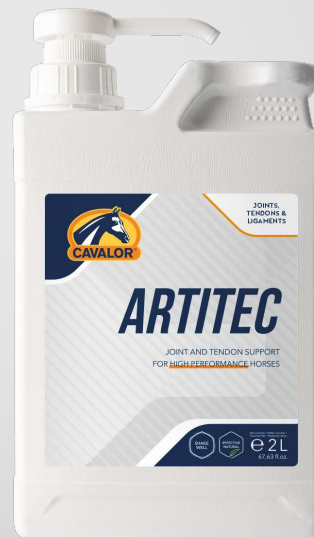

The result of an extensive
7-year research program

Overload is common in joints that perform. However, it comes from a cascade of reactions that end up in a real problem.

During an extensive research program, Cavalor has designed step by step a multi-ingredient nutraceutical that is able to downregulate that cascade, hence protecting the joints of equine athletes. The effect of Cavalor ArtiTec has been documented by both in vitro and in vivo experiments and the overall efficacy is supported by the results of a clinical pilot study.

THE RESEARCH BEHIND BRONCHIX PULMO

Dr Emmanuelle van Erck Westergren DVM, PhD, ECEIM is a leading authority in the field of equine performance. With 25 years experience in equine respiratory health, she leads a practice offering clinically driven performance analysis services, specifically for sports and race horses.

In collaboration with Cavalor dr. Emmanuelle conducted a clinical trial. The aim of the study was to determine the effect of a daily oral supplementation on breathing and oxygen intake of Cavalor Bronchix Pulmo in active racehorses, aged between 2 and 9 years old.

All horses were supplemented daily for 25 days. All other variables such as environment were consistent across the study sample. The study concluded that daily oral supplementation of Cavalor Bronchix Pulmo significantly improves oxygen intake in active racehorses.

// Cavalor Bronchix Pulmo is promising in reducing the occurrence of EIPH as well as inflammation in active racehorses
